hi marco,

i am going through my emails and just saw an email that nicola sent to me.

an unrealized project:

LA is a car city. But it wasn't always this way. There used to be a lively trolley system here. Some of these trollies were dumped into the ocean. I always saw that as a way of sending them into oblivion, to forget the past of this city so that it's present is not questioned. I once wanted to pull a trolley car, or what is left of it (if anything), out of the ocean. As if to bring it back into memory... I never did this. I may try. I've heard they have completely disintegrated. I don't know... Maybe... I'll see...
